

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

THERE is a significance in the annual convention of the alumni which reaches far beyond the renewal of personal memories and associations. The University needs the touch with national life and civic affairs which can best come from the experience of her graduates. The intelligent and even critical interest of the alumni is one of the factors contributing to the vigor of Cornell. The convention offers an admirable forum for the expression of that interest. For these reasons a large attendance at Philadelphia will be another encouraging step in the University's rise and progress.

When in Ithaca Stop at the Co-op for Pennants and Banners

You will remember the quality which the Co-op sold in your time. We have maintained that standard. You will want a banner in your home which will have the same quality as the other furnishings. Write us for prices and the size best suited to your room.

Cross Section Papers

The sale of Co-op cross section paper is growing all the time. It is the accurate cross section which is the cause. Your results will not be shown correctly if the medium (cross section paper) brings in an error. Write for a copy of our sample book.

Concerning Cornell by von Engeln

Here is a book of interest to all Cornellians. Several thousand copies have been sold but there are hundreds of others who need a copy. What do you know about Cornell University? Do you even know, briefly, the History?

Leather bound $5.00 Cloth bound $3.50

Agricultural Books

Half of our mail orders are for books and a large portion of that amount is for books on Agriculture. Farmers are not the only ones buying. Anyone having a small garden or chickens had better get a good book to help them.

Cornell Songbook $1.75

A new printing will be off the press about November first. This is not a new edition. The pictures in the front of the book are new. Have you a songbook with the music? If there is a Cornell gathering somewhere we usually get several rush orders for the songbook. Why not buy now?

VOL. XXIX, No. 5

ITHACA, N. Y., OCTOBER 28, 1926

PRICE 12 CENTS

THE Sun has come out editorially for the abolishment of Junior Week, averring that the festivities are far too expensive for many a father, that they are time-consuming and exhausting, and that they aren't much fun anyhow. The editorial has roused a good deal of horror in the more select undergraduate circles. The first six undergraduates whom this recorder of contemporary opinion has stopped on the street have replied, "Of course, I don't see much sense in Junior Week, but the other fellows in the house wouldn't think of giving it up." Evidently many a student, admitting the first three counts of the editor's indictment, differs radically with him on the fourth. The gayeties of Junior Week are to him a ravishment of soul and sense; during three magic days he drains the cup of joy to the dregs, heedless of the black-browed editor, scowling, darkly a specter at the banquet.

THIS QUESTION of what is fun and what is not is no matter for us elders to decide. Many of us have been stirred to cynical musings by the haggard faces of the revelers on the third day of their ordeal by dancing. The sight of unhappy young men, swaying and tottering in their dress suits in the registration line on the Saturday morning after the Prom has been said to touch even the stern heart of Davy Hoy; he has rushed to mother an unfortunate, offering him an orange from his own lunch. Indeed, these eighty hours of jazz present the severest test of manly endurance since Hannibal crossed the Alps. But to be sure, if we don't like it, we don't have to attend, as the participants would be the first to point out.

THE ATTITUDE of the Sun seems to us worthy of remark. Its grave-side oration on the interment of the Masque expressed a seemingly regret, but gave no encouragement for a resurrection, or even an exhumation. It has pronounced a graceful benediction over the All-Cornell Hops, now defunct. Now it would put an end to that even more ancient institution, Junior Week. The Sun appears to believe that a tradition is not worthy of preservation merely because it is a tradition. In this belief the Sun has the support of other commentators who have noted the extraordinary power of self-perpetuation in undergraduate organizations. A club, a publication, a tradition, has an almighty trouble in coming to a stop. A dozen new organizations are formed each year—but the old ones keep right on going. By a curious paradox, these organizations continue to live, some because they have a good deal of money in the treasury, and some because they have a vast quantity of debts.

THE FRASER LAW SCHOLARSHIPS have been awarded to Eugene J. Conroy '27 of Oneida and Thomas G. Rickert '27 of Niagara Falls. The Faculty selects a number of the best students in the Law College, from whom the seniors choose two to receive the awards.

THE ITHACA CITY HOSPITAL has become the Ithaca Memorial Hospital. The change was made by the Hospital Association, as the former name suggested that the hospital was supported solely by the city.

CROWBAR POINT has been purchased by Professor Ernest T. Paine, Ph.D. '19, and Mrs. Paine, for the purpose of giving the use of the land to the Girl Scouts for their annual summer camp. About 140 acres were included in the purchase, of which nearly a mile is lake frontage.

THE RED KEY, the junior honorary society which acts as the special host to visiting teams, has elected Lewis P. Seiler of Louisville, Ky., president for the year. Edward G. Johnson of Flushing is vice-president, Edward J. Scheidenhelm of Wilmette, Ill., corresponding secretary, John W. Ackerman of Tompkinsville, recording secretary, and Richard V. Wake-man of Quincy, Mass., treasurer. Other members of the society, elected this fall, are Bertel W. Antell of Brooklyn, Philip L. Ash of Kingston, Pa., Stephen D. Bradley, Jr., of Washington, George C. Butler of Columbus, Ohio, Clyde A. Case of Cleveland, James E. Hubbell of Saugatuck, Conn., Robert M. Leng of Staten Island, John D. Mickle of Chatham, Charles C. Porter of East Orange, Ford W. Stevens of Glen Ridge, Donald T. Secor of Hopewell, N. J., John C. Sterritt of Bellevue, Pa., Christian A. von Runohr of Milwaukee, and Philip Will, Jr., of Rochester.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB is planning a busier season than ever. Although continuing its policy of presenting programs of one-act plays, it will produce a large number of full length plays. The Theatre Arts Monthly, in its review of Little Theatre activities during the past year, placed the work of the Cornell Dramatic Club at the top of the college theatres. Assisting Professor Drummond this year will be Miss Evelyn C. Casey, Grad., of New York, Miss Constance Brown, Grad., of Washington, D. C., Judson W. Genung '27 of Ithaca, and Bernard Lenrow '26 of Binghamton.

REAL-ESTATE BROKERS from Rochester have burst forth with advertisements in the Sun and Journal-News which make it appear that Ithaca is to take Florida's recently exalted position. A new development known as Bryant Heights has been formed, located between Mitchell and State Streets. The ads list all kinds of inducements for buying, one particularly catering to masculine superiority: "If you cannot come today, send your wife to select a lot. If you are not satisfied with the selection, we will exchange it for any lot not sold."

THE CORNELL CHAPTER of Phi Beta Kappa has elected Professor Roswell C. Gibbs '06 its president for the year. He succeeds Professor Harry Caplan '17, and has recently been appointed chairman of the Committee on Admissions of the Arts College. Other officers elected are Professor Harold R. Smart, A. M. '21, vice-president; Lawrence R. Andrus '25, secretary; Mildred Watt '15, treasurer; and Professor Robert P. Sibley, registrar. The executive committee consists of the officers and Elias R. B. Willis, A. M. '14, and Professor Herbert A. Wichelns '16.

THE SPEAKER last week at the informal Sunday evening gatherings in Willard Straight Hall was Dean Albert R. Mann '04. He told of some of his observations in Europe during the last two years, when he was on leave of absence from the University and at the request of the International Education Board was in charge of the European organization of the study of agriculture, in cooperation with the colleges of America.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB on October 22 and 23 presented "A Night at an Inn" by Lord Dunsany, "Freedom" by John Reed, "It Isn't Done" by Carl Glick, and "Free Speech" by William L. Prosser.

THE SAGE CHAPEL Preacher for October 24 was the Rev. Canon Allan P. Shatford, M.A., D.C.L., of the Church of Saint James the Apostle, Montreal.

THE NEW South Aurora Street bridge over Six-Mile Creek has at last been opened to traffic and the detour to the Binghamton road discontinued. Professor Earle N. Burrows '07 designed the bridge.

SENATOR JAMES W. WADSWORTH, JR., now candidate for re-election, spoke at the Lyceum on October 15. At the time of the nominations there was considerable agitation hereabouts to send Cristman followers as delegates to the convention. Wadsworth spoke on prohibition, but whether there were any Republican dries in his audience who were swayed by his arguments has not been announced. He was introduced by Howard Cobb '95, whom he met thirty years ago when Cobb formed a baseball team for Wadsworth's father.

Chemists Honor Cornelian

John E. Teeple '99 to Receive Perkin Medal for Development of American Potash Industry

The 1927 Perkin Medal, awarded "annually to the American chemist who has most distinguished himself by his services to applied chemistry," will be given to John E. Teeple, who received the degree of B.S. from Cornell in 1899 and the degree of Ph.D. in 1903. He will receive the medal in recognition of his significant scientific, technical, and administrative achievements, particularly the economic development of an American potash industry at Searles Lake, California.

The committee on awards for the Perkin Medal consists of representatives of the Society of Chemical Industry (British), American section, the American Chemical Society, the American Electrochemical Society, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, and the Societe de Chimie Industrielle, American section. The medal will be awarded at a public meeting to be held at the Chemists' Club in New York on January 14, 1927. It will be presented by the senior past president of the Society of Chemical Industry, resident in America, Dr. William L. Nichols.

During the War the acute shortage of potash supplies because of the blockade of German ports led to efforts to secure potash from the brines of Searles Lake. The attempts were at first unsuccessful because of faulty engineering and contamination of the potash with sufficient borax to injure the crops. The British owners, after they had spent large sums of money, put the whole project in charge of Dr. Teeple, who successfully met the scientific problems involved.

Under his direction potash was gained which compared favorably in cost with the European potash, and which was also free from borax. The previously injurious borax was developed into an important output of the plant and is adding largely to the world's supply of this material.

The owners have now placed sufficient funds at the disposal of Dr. Teeple to double the capacity of the plant, which is capable of supplying twenty per cent of the potash needs of the country.

Since receiving his doctor's degree at Cornell Dr. Teeple has been engaged in a chemical consulting practice in New York. He has been treasurer and director of the American Chemical Society since 1919. He was president of the Chemists' Club from 1921 to 1923. He is also an authority on Maya inscriptions, and has contributed numerous articles to The American Anthropologist.

PROFESSOR BRISTOW ADAMS spoke before the Public Health Association meeting in Buffalo on October 14 on "Methods of Disseminating News of Public Health Activities."

DARTMOUTH GAME PLANS

The Cornell Clubs of New York and Chicago are making special preparations for transportation to the Dartmouth game in Ithaca on November 13. The Cornell Club Special will leave New York from the Pennsylvania station at 11.30 p. m. Friday, November 12, arriving at Ithaca 8 a. m. On the return trip, the train will leave Ithaca Saturday night at 11.51, arriving in New York on Sunday morning at 8.20. Reservations may be made at the club office, 245 Madison Avenue, until November 1. After that date reservations should be made at the office of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

From Chicago, the more fortunate travelers will leave on Thursday, November 11, at 8 p. m., arriving at Ithaca at 12.32 Friday noon. A second delegation will leave on Friday, at 12.45 p. m., arriving in Ithaca at 8.52 Saturday. Alumni of the Middle West who wish further information should communicate with the members of the committee, Newton C. Farr '09, 140 South Dearborn Street, Chicago; and Henry H. Garrett '23, Federal Securities Corporation, 231 South La Salle Street, Chicago.

SPORT STUFF

The Dartmouth game on November 13th will bring to Ithaca more people and many more cars than have ever been here before. A printed bulletin will be mailed with all tickets describing traffic, traffic routes and parking arrangements. It will help the general situation and the State Constabulary in charge, if, on that particular day, Old Grads will act a little less like Old Grads and read signs and observe traffic regulations.

There are five main highways running into Ithaca. The lines of cars coming in on these will be kept separate and will be directed in the safest and most convenient (not necessarily the most familiar) way to the parking field. Please go as directed by signs and officers.

There will be adequate parking facilities on Upper Alumni field. Please park there on the lines and in the positions indicated. Please don't try to park your cars in other places or along any of the campus roads.

Alumni who go first to fraternity houses or the homes of friends are requested to leave their cars there and to proceed to the game on foot. That's what undergraduates and residents of the community do.

There are six entrances to the field. Your ticket tells you the one to use. It will be the quickest and easiest way to your seat. Please use it.

The University will run a series of lunch counters in the Drill Hall for the convenience of alumni and their friends. But you can't drive there in a car. Better anchor the bus permanently. R. B.

Convention Announcements

Thirty Thousand Alumni to Receive News of Plans for Seventh Annual Conference at Philadelphia

This week's mail will bring to the majority of Cornell men and women—30,000, to be exact—an attractive announcement issued by the publicity committee and telling in some details the plans for the Seventh Annual Convention of the Cornell Alumni Corporation. The convention will formally come to order at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, the traditional Cornell hostelry in Philadelphia, on the morning after Thanksgiving Day, November 26. But the committees are emphasizing more than ever this year those pre-convention activities which are essential to the absorption of the proper degree of convention spirit.

The registration booth in the Bellevue-Stratford will be open at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. That evening will come the annual smoker which from time immemorial the Cornell men of Philadelphia have celebrated on the eve of the Pennsylvania game. In honor of the convention guests, the committee this year promises an evening that will be "bigger and better than ever." While the men are holding their smoker at the hotel, the women will organize a theatre party.

Thursday will be given over to the game, although registration will continue during the morning. At the risk of repetition it may be repeated here that tickets for the football game must be procured in advance, and from the Cornell University Athletic Association, at Ithaca. It will not be possible to provide tickets in Philadelphia.

After the two days of convention business are completed, those who plan to stay over the week-end will be well repaid. In the words of the publicity committee, "they can lay up unforgettable memories of the Sesqui-Centennial at its height; of the patriotic thrills at Independence Hall; of the loveliness that is Valley Forge. Golf, too, on far-famed courses. Or perhaps, a trip to Atlantic City, but little over an hour's ride."

Railroad rates to the convention will be particularly low this year. The transportation committee has moved in collaboration with the Sesqui-centennial Exposition and secured the benefit of the resulting low rates. It is only necessary to get a special rate Sesqui ticket on any railroad in the country, Far West excepted.

THE PHRASE "Expand Your Chest" won a five-dollar gold piece for Professor Mortier F. Barrus, Ph.D. '12, when it took first place in the Ithaca Community Chest slogan contest. The slogan will be used in the fall campaign of the Chest, which opens November 15.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Maryland

At the annual meeting of the Cornell University Association of Maryland held on October 15, officers for the year were elected as follows: president, W. Mitchell Price '11; vice-president, C. Stewart Fiske '21; secretary and treasurer, Ralph Bolgiano '09.

Plans for the entertainment of the Musical Clubs party in the Christmas holidays were discussed and a committee appointed to make the preliminary arrangements.

The club will celebrate the Cornell-Dartmouth game on November 13 with a ladies' night and dinner at the Hotel Altamont.

New York Women

On October 13, some eighty-five members of the Cornell Women's Club of New York met for dinner at the Women's University Club.

Through the courtesy of Miss Nina Smith '12, of the Pond Bureau, the guests were entertained by Dunworth, the magician. "The Happiness Boys" (no apologies to WEAF) were presented in costume by Miss Dorothea Trebing '23 and Miss Elsie Smith '24. These "boys" also led a general "sing" of Cornell songs.

The next event will be a bridge party at the Hotel Astor, on Saturday, November 13, at two p. m., open to all Cornell women and their friends. Tickets are $1.25 each. $5 reserves a table.

The bridge is being given for the benefit of the fund for permanent headquarters. It is felt that the Cornell Women's Club must have permanent headquarters if it is to hold itself up to a standard commensurate with the position Cornell should hold among other leading colleges. All Cornell women are urged to help make this party a success.

Notices will be sent throughout the metropolitan district, but should you fail to receive one, communicate with the chairman, Mrs. Emily C. Holt '17, 34 Nassau Street, New York, telephone John 3104. This bridge will give Cornellians visiting New York an excellent opportunity to meet old friends.

Cleveland

More than sixty alumni were at the first meeting of the season of the Cornell Club of Cleveland at its new meeting place, the University Club, on Thursday, October 21. Conant Van Blarcom 'c8, retiring president, gave a resume of the club activities for the last season. Upon his retirement, the club voted Van an expression of thanks for the splendid work accomplished during his two years in the office, besides bringing the Club to its largest membership.

New members elected to the Board of Directors are Gustavus A. Kositzky '05 and Henry M. Beatty '22 for terms of three years; and Walter E. Wiebenson '19 and Frank H. Teagle '02 for two and one years respectively.

Officers elected for the 1926-27 season are: Chester A. Thompson '16, president; McRea Parker '14, vice-president; Charles C. Colman '12, secretary; and Edward T. Slinkard '16, treasurer.

The guest of the luncheon was Professor Albert W. Smith '78, who came over from Ithaca to be the speaker of the day. Uncle Pete told in his charming style stories, as he put it, "of ancient, medieval and modern history." He gave intimate glimpses of the history of Cornell and spoke particularly of Ezra Cornell, Andrew D. White, Professor Sweet, Willard Beahan '78 of the Cleveland Club, and Walter C. Kerr '79, whose biography was completed this summer by Dean Smith.

The Cornell Club of Cleveland nominated Frank H. Teagle '02 for director of the Cornell Alumni Corporation for the Great Lakes District.

Northern New Jersey

A committee of three, empowered to arrange for the scholarship which the Cornell Club of Northern New Jersey intends to give, was elected at the first monthly luncheon of the season held at the Downtown Club, Newark, on October 15. The committee consists of August Merz '93, Rea E. Babson '05, and Andrew J. Whinery '10. The scholarship will be given on a basis of scholastic and all around ability.

The officers of the club for the ensuing year are: William H. Henderson '04 of Montclair, president; Arthur L. Stern '17 of Ridgewood, vice-president; and Leonard G. Aierstok '17 of Belleville, secretary and treasurer.

Luncheon meetings of the club are held the third Friday of each month, and any Cornellian who is in that locality is welcome to attend.

Pittsburgh

The annual meeting of the Cornell University Association of Western Pennsylvania was held at the University Club of Pittsburgh on October 9, about a hundred members attending. They met in the afternoon at the University Club and attended the football game between the University of Pittsburgh and Lafayette. After the game, the party returned to the University Club for dinner.

The following officers were elected: president, John W. Todd '06; vice-president, Louis W. Voigt '21; secretary, Millard Keys '09; registrar, Charles M. Stotz '21; treasurer, John Carothers '16; and member of the board of governors, Howard K. Walter '14.

After the election, the meeting was featured by talks by Dean Dexter S. Kimball and Albert H. Sharpe, former football coach. Dean Kimball gave an interesting talk touching on present day problems of the University, the new buildings, and what may be expected in the way of future growth of the University. Al Sharpe gave some interesting reminiscences concerning Cornell football games.

Ithaca

At the annual meeting of the Cornell Club of Ithaca held in Willard Straight Hall on the evening of October 21, Morgan St. John '11 was elected president to succeed William H. Morrison '90. Professor Clark S. Northup '93 was elected vice-president, and Arthur B. Treman '23 was re-elected treasurer. Ralph C. Smith '15 holds over for another year his office as secretary. Professor Simon H. Gage '77 was elected director for three-year.

The club delegated Messrs. Morrison, St. John, Romeyn Berry '04, R. Warren Sailor '07, and Harold Flack '12 as delegates from the club to the Seventh Annual Conference of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, to be held in Philadelphia on November 26 and 27.

Following the business meeting Professor Martin Sampson, head of the Department of English, read selections from his own prose and verse.

Chicago

The weekly luncheon of the Cornell Association of Chicago, held in the University Club on October 21, was generally considered "the best luncheon of the year." Sixty men were present. Professor Charles L. Durham '99 was the guest of the club.

New York

The current issue of The Cornell Yell, issued by the Cornell Club of New York, contains items of interest regarding that active alumni organization:

"Your Club has enjoyed by all odds its most active and most useful summer. Bed rooms have all been reserved on many days and your house committee is negotiating for more bed rooms at the present time. The lounge, library and card room have been used even more than during the winter. All the dining rooms have been patronized liberally. The club's finances have never been in such good condition as they are today.

"Olsen, the steward, has done much to improve the dining-room service and cuisine, and he again reminds us that all the waiters have been trained to accept the requests of members without question. For instance a dish which does not appeal when it is served can be changed for no other reason than that something else is desired. Additional portions of any viands will be served without additional charge. Special dinners can be arranged at any time by calling Olsen on the telephone. Coffee will be served in the lounge or card room after dinner without additional charge. Also tea or coffee will be served in the afternoon with sandwiches or cakes if desired. The oyster bar in the basement is open until midnight, and oysters, sandwiches, and table waters will be served until that hour in any of our club rooms or bed-rooms."

THE COLLEGE WORLD

PRINCETON will publish a series of monographs on medieval manuscripts. The first number will be on Early Medieval Manuscripts in the Morgan Library, edited by Professor Albert M. Friend of the Princeton Department of Art and Archaeology.

SPEAKING at the Michigan Union recently John A. Lapp, president of the National Conference of Social Workers, said that crime has decreased notably in this country since 1910, and that there is no such thing as a crime wave sweeping the country, as many have contended.

DUKE UNIVERSITY has entered upon a building program which will, when completed, probably within six years, give it some sixty buildings costing in the neighborhood of $25,000,000. The enlarged Trinity College plant, now under construction at a cost of some $5,000,000, will be later used as the coordinate college for women only. The greater Duke will be erected a mile away from the present campus on a rise of ground about a hundred feet above the surrounding 4,000 acre wooded area. The buildings will be of Orange County stone, and of Gothic design. Dormitories and fraternity houses will be built for two thousand students.

HENRY W. WOLLMAN of Philadelphia has offered the University of Pennsylvania a tract of 178 acres overlooking Valley Forge Park as a site for its undergraduate colleges. The matter is to be considered by a committee of five to be appointed by the president of the university.

STUDENT COUNCIL AFFAIRS

Eugene W. Goodwillie '27 of Chicago, member of the varsity track team, Aleph Samach, Quill and Dagger, and Alpha Delta Phi, has been elected president of the Student Council. He ran against Jervis Langdon Jr., '27 of Elmira, editor-in-chief of the Sun, who was elected a senior representative on the Council.

Robert B. Brown '27 of Yonkers, managing editor of the Sun, is the Council's secretary, and William L. Cressman '27 of Norristown, Pa., manager of varsity football, the treasurer.

Besides Langdon, the senior representatives are Victor L. Butterfield of East Lansing, Mich., John G. Krieger of Salamanca, Michael Rapuano of Syracuse, and Forbes D. Shaw of Brooklyn.

Junior representatives are Eugene P. Balderston, Jr., of Philadelphia, Walter J. Klein of Port Richmond, Robert D. Murdock of Ossining, Enos E. Pennock of Haddonfield, N. J., and Rollin H. Spelman of Canton, Ohio.

John F. Anderson of Glendale, Ohio, and Colin A. Miller of Oak Park, Ill., are

MISS FARRAND ENGAGED

President and Mrs. Farrand have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Margaret Proper, to Reed V. Bontecou '25. Miss Farrand was educated abroad, at Miss Madeira's School in Washington, and at Vassar College, from which she graduated in 1925. Bontecou graduated from the College of Mechanical Engineering, and is a member of Kappa Sigma, Quill and Dagger, and of Atmos, and a wearer of the C, won on the track team.

PYRAMID, honorary civil engineering society, has recently elected to membership Theodore B. Murnane '27 of Utica, John H. Burns '28 of Port Chester, Alfred G. Stevens '28 of Manchester, N. H., and

FACULTY NOTES

DEAN VERANUS A. MOORE '87 left Ithaca on October 6 for Detroit where he gave an address before the International Milk Dealers' Association on "The Control of Bovine Tuberculosis." Saturday he spent in Pittsburgh inspecting the working of the "Electropion" method of pasteurizing milk. On October 12 he gave an address before the Sanitary Section of the American Public Health Association in Buffalo on "Diseases of Animals Communicable to Man."

PROFESSOR GEORGE F. WARREN '03 testified before the Industrial Survey Commission of New York State at its preliminary hearing on August 18. The Commission was established by the 1926 Legislature to study proposed industrial legislation for a report to the 1927 session. Professor Warren urged the commission to investigate means of reclaiming to agriculture or reforestation the 6,000,000 acres of abandoned or idle farm lands in the State.

PROFESSORS Charles C. Bidwell, Ph. D. '14, and Floyd K. Richtmyer '04 attended the eleventh annual convention of the Optical Society of America, held last week in Philadelphia. Professor Bidwell is secretary of the society, and Professor Richtmyer a former president and now editor of its journal. Professor Richtmyer also attended a meeting of the national executives of Sigma Xi. The tenth annual convention of the Optical Society was held in Ithaca last October.

PROFESSOR FRANK O. ELLENWOOD was elected vice-president of the Cornell Society of Engineers at the annual meeting held in New York last week. The society includes all graduates who are in New York, and was formed from the Association of Civil Engineers when the different schools of engineering at the University were consolidated.

PROFESSOR JAMES E. RICE '90 has recently been in Chicago attending a meeting of a committee which is endeavoring to evolve a "national uniform plan of standardization of poultry, breeding stock, eggs, and chicks." This is a sub-committee of the Poultry Science Association. When plans have finally been developed in two-thirds of the states, the Federal Government will take over the responsibility of putting the program into nationwide operation.

DR. MORITZ J. BONN, professor of economics at the Handelshochschule, Berlin, gave three important lectures last week, speaking on "Germany Under the Dawes Plan," "New Aspects of the World Economic Situation," and "German Poli-

OBITUARY

George T. Ingersoll '83

George Talcott Ingersoll died on April 15, 1926, in Los Angeles, Calif.

He was born on May 15, 1858 at Cleveland, Ohio, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ingersoll. After early training at Cleveland High School, he entered Cornell in 1879 and remained for two years as a mechanical engineering student. Later he went West and was a mining engineer in the vicinity of Anaconda, Mont., and Salt Lake City, Utah. For several years prior to his death, he was an invalid. He is survived by his widow.

Edward B. Hodgman '83

Edward Balcom Hodgman died on May 6, 1926 at Seattle, Wash.

He was born in Painted Post, N. Y., on January 13, 1861, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Hodgman. He attended Painted Post Union School and then came to Cornell in 1879 as an optional student. He remained for one year. He became a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and played third base on the ball team.

On October 15, 1895, he married Miss Alice Gilbert of Painted Post who survives him with three children, Gilbert L., Helen, and Stanford Hodgman.

Edward E. Baker '85

Edward Everett Baker died in New York on September 25, 1926.

He came to Cornell in 1881 and graduated in 1885 with the degree of B. S. On November 26, 1913, he was married to Miss Gertrude E. Presby of New York, who survives him. In the later years of his life he was a stock broker in New York with offices at 62 Broadway.

George D. Shepardson '89

George DeFrees Shepardson, head of the Department of Electrical Engineering at the University of Minnesota, died in Florence, Italy, on May 26, 1926, while on a tour of the world.

He was born at Cheviot, Ohio, on November 20, 1864, the son of Daniel D. and Eliza Smart Shepardson. He went to Denison University, receiving an A.B. degree from there in 1885 and the degree of A.M. in 1888. He then entered Cornell and after a year of study, received the degree of M.E. in 1889. In 1912, he received the degree of D. Sc. from Harvard.

In 1891 he went to the University of Minnesota as professor of electrical engineering and had been there ever since. He was a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the National Electric Light Association, the Illuminating Engineering Society, and the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education; a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; and the author of several books on electrical topics.

At the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901, he served as a member of the jury of awards, and in 1904 performed the same office at the St. Louis Exposition. In 1892 he was married to Miss Mary King of King's Mills, Ohio, and they had one daughter.

Allen J. Seney '96

Allen J. Seney, a well known Toledo, Ohio, attorney, died at his home there on April 3, 1926 after a brief illness.

He was born at Kenton, Ohio, on March 25, 1875, the son of Henry W. and Mary Elizabeth Seney. He studied at Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan before coming to Cornell, where he was a student in arts for a part of one year. He was admitted to the bar after getting an LL. B. degree from Ohio State in 1899.

In Ohio legal circles he had the reputation of being an exceptionally capable trial lawyer and served at one time as prosecutor of Lucas County. He was an active member of the Democratic Party in Ohio, Toledo Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, the Commerce Club, and Phi Delta Phi.

On June 24, 1899 he was married to Miss Florence D. Cope of Columbus, Ohio. She survives him with two children, Henry W. Seney '22 of Toledo, and a daughter, Mary Seney of Toledo.

John Howland '99

Dr. John Howland, professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins University, died in London, England, on July 20, 1926.

He was born in New York on February 3, 1873, the son of Henry E. and Sara Miller Howland. After early schooling in New York, he went to Yale and received an A. B. degree from there in 1894. In 1897 he received an M. D. degree from New York University and in 1899 took a similar degree from Cornell, after special work in the University.

In 1897 he began practicing in New York. He became physician to Willard Parker, Riverside, and St. Vincent's Hospitals, and also pathologist for the Foundling Hospital. In 1911 and 1912 he was professor of pediatrics at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. In October, 1912, he went to Johns Hopkins as professor of pediatrics and pediatrician-in-chief at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He held these positions until his death.

On October 12, 1903, he married Miss Susan M. Sanford in New Haven, Conn. He was a member of the American Medical Association (council on pharmacy and chemistry), the American Pediatric Association, Delta Kappa Epsilon, the New York Academy of Medicine, the Association of American Physicians, the Maryland and Baltimore Country Clubs, and the Century Association.

Susan G. Southerland '99

She was born at South Shaftsbury, Vt., on January 19, 1862, the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Dennis J. George. After attending Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham, Mass., she studied at the Women's Medical College of the New York Infirmary. In 1898, she entered Cornell and in 1899 received the degree of M. D.

On May 3, 1881, she married Augustus P. Southerland. They had three children, two of whom died in infancy. Her husband has also been dead for several years. For a long time she was a member of the staff of Dr. W. E. Park in the research laboratories of the New York City Board of Health.

John B. Ferguson '02

John Barrie Ferguson died suddenly of heart trouble on August 3, 1926.

He was born in New York on December 26, 1880, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson. After attending high school in New York, he went to the College of the City of New York for a time and then entered Cornell in 1898. In 1903 he graduated with the degree of M. E. He became a member of Sigma Chi. He played on the varsity lacrosse team and in his senior year was captain.

Harry H. Cosper '12

Harry Hobart Cosper was killed in an automobile accident on April 25, 1926.

He was born on October 13, 1884 at Cottonwood Falls, Kans., and when a small boy, moved with his parents to Elmira, N. Y. He attended Elmira Free Academy and then entered Cornell in 1908 for special work in agriculture. After a year he left and became engaged in farming in Texas.

Eliot C. Smith '14

Eliot Congdon Smith, a leading attorney of Paterson, N. J., died at his home there on May 25 last of acute indigestion.

He was born in Paterson on June 30, 1892, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Smith. After attending Montclair Academy, he entered Cornell in 1910. He graduated in 1914 with the degree of A. B. Later he took up law and at the time of his death was a practicing attorney with the firm of Hornblower, Miller & Garrison at 24 Broad Street, New York.

He was married on September 16, 1920, at Paterson to Miss Helen B. Wilcox, who survives him.

F. M. Schmidt-Ernsthausen, Grad.

Friedrich Maximilian Ernsthausen, who was a graduate student and instructor at Cornell last year, was killed in a railroad wreck at Lehrte, Germany, on August 19.

He was born at Elberfeld, Germany, on October 1, 1901, and studied at Heidelberg University. After getting a Ph. D. from there in 1924 he came to Cornell and took up graduate work. Last year he also gave instruction in agricultural economics and farm management.

He was a member of Zeta Psi and was popular among his fellow students. His family is one of the foremost in Germany.

ALUMNI HOTELS

THE Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel plan, announced elsewhere in this issue, is more than a mere advertising venture and is of more than passing interest to alumni of all colleges.

A few alumni centers need no help from the alumni office. They are self-sustaining, possess clubhouses, mailing lists, and organization. They are few in number, however, and in no center, even New York and Chicago, are there more than a handful of colleges which are so fortunate.

University clubs, too, serve a part of the collegiate population in a few centers, but the membership is not all-inclusive, is almost exclusively local, and is planned usually with little attention to the member's family's needs. The traveling alumni family has no place whatever in either the local college club or in the university club.

It is to meet this situation as well as to provide adequate quarters for local club activities and intercollegiate functions that the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels have been established.

We hope that Cornellians will make use of these facilities wherever it is convenient for them to do so. University clubs and local clubhouses are a very important part of alumni activity and must not, of course, be sacrificed to the Alumni Hotel idea, but in the many instances and in the many localities where no such conflict arises we hope to see Cornellians taking the lead in studying the new situation and making the greatest possible use of the facilities afforded by this plan.

THE CAMP MEMORIAL

EDITOR, THE ALUMNI NEWS:

Cornell has been assessed $5000 as its share in the Walter Camp Memorial, a monumental gateway to the Yale athletic fields, to be erected at a cost of $300,000. Cornell's share will be raised by means of a surtax on tickets to the Columbia game. The comments one hears on this procedure are, to say the least, sardonic. The method of "assessments" and "surtaxes" is adopted because, apparently, the method of contributions would be unavailing. The erection of a monumental memorial gateway to the Yale athletic fields seems a matter of far less importance to the average college man than it does to the Intercollegiate Athletic Association. A memorial is meaningless unless it is a tribute from admirers who give of their own free will to perpetuate a name they hold dear. That money should be raised by compulsion, assessments, and surtaxes is an offense, not an honor, to the memory of that high-minded sportsman, Walter Camp.

ATHLETICS

Walter Camp Game

The Columbia-Cornell football game at New York next Saturday will be a Walter Camp Day game. Some of the receipts from this game will be turned over to the Walter Camp Memorial Committee toward a fund being raised for the erection of a Walter Camp Memorial Gateway as an entrance to the Yale Bowl and other athletic fields at New Haven. Bronze panels will be placed on the sides of the gateway on which will be cut the name of every college and university contributing to the fund. E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, chairman of the Football Rules Committee, is chairman of the Memorial Committee.

Walter Camp Day is being observed on many college gridirons this fall out of respect to the memory of the man who did so much to make football the pre-eminent college game. No one day was set aside by the committee for general observance but each community was allowed to designate its own date for the memorial. Columbia and Cornell chose the date of their annual game, October 30.

Cross Country Prospects

Cornell will have a better cross country team this fall than last year, and should make a better showing in the Intercollegiate. Moreover, the freshman material this year is much above the average since the War. For the first time in some years there is solid ground for hope that cross country at Ithaca will "come back."

The varsity team has only one match scheduled before the Intercollegiate, a run with Dartmouth at Ithaca on November 12, the day before the Cornell-Dartmouth football game. Conflict in dates made it impossible to arrange the usual quadrangular race with Columbia, Pennsylvania, and Dartmouth in New York. This race will be revived next year, it is hoped.

Practice so far has disclosed the leading varsity runners to be Horace H. Benson, sophomore, who won the individual championship in the freshman intercollegiate cross country race last fall and finished second in the two-mile run in the international meet in July; James D. Pond, two miler on last year's track team; Captain Charles C. Houghton; Clarence F. Spindler, a senior; Gerald P. Rhodes; Walter W. Hammond, Jr., and Clarence A. Vanderbrook of last year's team; Abraham V. DesForges, who ran on the freshman team several years ago, and Harold C. Frincke. Benson has been leading the pack, with Pond generally second and Houghton third. Between the leaders and the rest of the pack the gap is usually a wide one, but Cornell ought to have a stronger team as well as one or two individual runners who will be well out in front in every race.

"Sandhogs" Are Working In Japan

Pneumatic caissons and the men who work under air pressure within them—called "Sandhogs"—have been introduced into Japan by The Foundation Company.

As a result of the great earthquakes in 1923, and to avoid future destruction should they recur, unusual forms of construction are being used in Japan.

The Capital, Tokyo, like Venice, has a maze of waterways and many bridges span them. In the building of new bridges over the Sumida River, which divides the city, construction under air pressure was necessary to reach stable foundations.

Importing modern pneumatic equipment from America, the Japanese, under the supervision of Engineers of The Foundation Company, have built the new bridge piers.

The laying of a cutting edge of a caisson; the launching of one; and the installation of pneumatic equipment are shown in the views.

Foundations are but one of many types of structures built by this organization.

LITERARY REVIEW

The Illinois Alumni News for October contains a portrait of Professor William Trelease '80, of the University of Illinois, who has retired from active teaching, and of Professor Oliver L. McCaskill, who is exchanging chairs of law with Professor Elliott Cheatham.

The Fleming H. Revell Company is publishing a book on "The Religion of an Electrical Engineer" by the late Professor George D. Shepardson '89, of the University of Minnesota.

In Scribner's for October Hendrik W. van Loon '05 has the opening article, on "The Triumph of Applesauce."

Palms for October includes "Three Poems" by Jessie R. Fauset '05.

Louis Bromfield's new novel, "Early Autumn," is reviewed in The New York Times Book Review for October 17. The book is published by Frederick A. Stokes & Company, and the price is $2.

"The Valuation of Norwich" by Professor William E. Lunt, of Haverford, formerly of Cornell, has just been published by the Oxford University Press. It will set you back $9.35.

Elsie Singmaster '02 has just written "The Book of the United States," an elementary history of America. It is published by the Dorans at $2.

In The Herald-Tribune for October 17 "The Psychology of Human Society," by Professor Charles A. Ellwood '96, of the University of Missouri, is reviewed by Alexander Goldenweiser. "The Writing of History" by Jean J. Jusserand, Wilbur C. Abbott, '92-5 Grad., Charles W. Colby, and John Spencer Bassett is reviewed by Professor Frederick L. Paxson.

Professor Dennis's serial on germanium proceeds. The following numbers have lately appeared: xi, "Germanium Glasses: Preliminary Note" by L. M. Dennis and Albert W. Laubengayer '21, Journal of the American Chemical Society xlvii. 1925; xii, "Tetra-Alkyl and Tetra-Aryl Compounds of Germanium. Germanium Tetra-Ethoxyl" by Donalee L. Tabern, William R. Orndorff, and L. M. Dennis, Journal xlvii. 2039; xiii, "Modified Form of Vacuum Apparatus for the Purification and Study of Volatile Compounds of Germanium" by Albert W. Laubengayer and Dr. Robert B. Corey '24, The Journal of Physical Chemistry for August; xiv, "Germanium Tetrachloride" by Albert W. Laubengayer and Donalee L. Tabern, same number; xv, "Germanium Chloroform" by L. M. Dennis, William R. Orndorff, and Donalee L. Tabern, same number; xvi, "Germanium Tetramethyl; Analysis by Combustion of a Liquid Containing Carbon and Hydrogen" by L. M. Dennis and Francis E. Hance, B. Chem. '21, Ph.D. '24, same number.

Hugo Wast's "La Casa de los Cuervos" has been edited with exercises, notes, and vocabulary, by Professor Ernest H. Hespelt '10, of New York University, and the volume has just been published by the Macmillans. It has xxiii plus 261 pages and sells for $1.20.

ALUMNI NOTES

'84 BS—Edward Maguire still retains his connection with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company. He is in the materials and process engineering department. His address is 810 Holland Avenue, Wilkesburg, Pa.

'94 ME—William J. Andrews is the Republican nominee for State senator from Raleigh, N. C., where he lives at 105 East North Street. He is telling Cornelians to "watch the returns from North Carolina."

'00, '01 AB—Charles E. Newton, Jr., is vice-president of the Frederick H. Levey Company, Inc., makers of printing inks, at 59 Beekman Street, New York. He lives at 430 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

'03 ME—Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Bruce of 513 Warren Crescent, Norfolk, Va., have a son, George Frederick, born on August 8, 1926.

'03—Benjamin G. Rand is chief engineer of the Rand Kardex Bureau, makers of card index systems, at North Tonawanda, N. Y. His address there is 207 Goundry Street.

'06 BSA—Charles F. Shaw is professor of soil technology at the University of California and in charge of soil survey work in the State. In July he was called to Mexico to assist the Commission Nacional de Irrigacion in organizing an agronomic and economic department, and in planning the work of determining the quality of soil and the economic feasibility of proposed irrigation projects. He writes that the Mexican Government is undertaking an extensive development of irrigation, with about sixty millions appropriated for the work. His address is 320 Hilgard Hall, Berkeley, Calif.

'08 ME—Clarence F. Engle is now secretary and treasurer of the firm of John B. Ruckstuhl, Inc., importers and converters of cotton goods, located at 315 Fourth Avenue, New York. He lives at 67 Park Street, Montclair, N. J.

'10 ME—Frank R. Oates is still managing the Technicolor Motion Picture Corporation of Boston, Mass. The last feature picture put out was "The Black Pirate" featuring Douglas Fairbanks. Oates and his wife now have a third daughter, Elizabeth Maynard, born on October 3. Their address is 120 Brookline Avenue, Boston.

'10 ME—Malcolm S. Jones, who was New England district manager for the Sun Oil Company, is now in charge of the distribution and sale of Galtex motor oils in New England for the Galena-Signal Oil Company. He went with the latter company on June 1 last. His office is at 156 Sixth Street, Cambridge, Mass., and he lives at 53 Brington Road, Brookline, Mass.

'11 ME; '12 AB—Munroe F. Warner is chief engineer of the American Zinc & Chemical Company at Langeloth, Pa. He and his wife, Margaret Mandeville '12, have a daughter Jean who is five, and a son who is one year old. Their mail address is P. O. Box 408.

'11 ME, '15 MME—Herbert B. Reynolds is chairman of the Power Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for 1926. He was chairman of the papers committee of the division in 1925. Reynolds is in charge of the mechanical engineering division of the motive power department of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company in New York. He lives at 171 Twenty-fourth Street, Jackson Heights, N. Y.

'11 ME—John O. Fuchs is general superintendent of the United Hudson Electric Corporation at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The corporation serves the Hudson Valley with a network of hydro-steam plants and transmission lines. His address is 50 Market Street, Poughkeepsie.

'11 ME—William H. Reid is general foreman of the Lima Locomotive Works, Inc., Lima, O. He and his wife live at 1116 West Market Street and have a son Richard who is eight, and a daughter Ruth who is nearly seven.

'12 ME—Finis E. Yoakum, Jr., has been appointed assistant superintendent of the East Bay Electric Division of the Southern Pacific Company. His headquarters are at Oakland Pier, Oakland, California, where all transcontinental trains terminate. Yoakum's promotion follows several years of training in various departments of the railroad. He has been a yard clerk, has served in various clerical and station positions, was for four years a student officer in railroad operation, special investigator in the transportation department, assistant engineer of mallet engine operation, and had six months of special study of the problems of mountain railroad electrification. After working on the staff of the vice-president and general manager as special representative, Yoakum was appointed train master of the Western Division, from which he was promoted to his present position. His new work consists of the operation of the electrified lines of the company on the East Side of San Francisco Bay, where he is in charge of approximately eight hundred trains daily.

The Discovery of Ithaca in 1926

History will tell you that the first settlement in Ithaca was made in 1789. How, then, was Ithaca discovered in 1926? Why, by the Cornellian who found that he could come back to the old college town for work, play, and happiness.

It is being done every year. There is an increasing number of Cornellians who are returning to Ithaca to live. The city offers excellent business opportunities. The educational advantages are well known. There are many kinds of entertainment. It is a good place to live in.

You may be one of forty thousand people in Ithaca for the Dartmouth game, November 13th. Quite a crowd in Ithaca. Everyone will be excited. Not exactly the time to consider Ithaca seriously as your residence. But after you have returned home, think it over.

Any Ithaca Cornellian will tell you what it means to live in "the bustling town." The Ithaca Chamber of Commerce will advise you concerning business possibilities. Why not find out?

To do so, write—

Duty Unto Death

Two stately towers united by a cloister, through which students for years to come will pass and glimpse the heart of their University—the Library, impressive, serene, the repository of the records of the learning of the centuries.

Can those towers and cloister fail to inspire those hopeful youths? They will represent the best there is in men and all will know and feel it. They will stand, deathless as any monuments that human skill can build, sacred to the memory of what Cornell's heroes did.

The great clash of the nations will fade into the mists of history. Scholars will write on the causes and effect of those terrific years. Schools of thought will argue and some condemn and some applaud. We need not pause to analyze these problems.

It matters not what may be our views or the views of future chroniclers. We need not stop to ask what motives led those heroes to their death. It matters not if some were spurred by hope of venture or others reined by heavy hearts; if some were inspired by love of country and thrilled by war's alarm, or others were burdened by thoughts of loved ones and depressed with doubts and fears. We need not bring to this review of all that passed, our thoughts on right or wrong or our belief in war for conscience's sake or disbelief for any cause.

There is one common ground upon which all may stand. There is one point of view where focus all the most divergent motives, theories and ideals.

And that, in them, those fated Cornell boys, is what these buildings will revere.

They fell during the springtime of their lives and in the performance of their duty. That simple fact will build this shrine.

Let him shrug who will with hints at cold conscription; let him prate who will on patriotic zeal; let him deplore who will the ruthless toll of war; let him acclaim who will the glory of a cause.

We bring them all to one accord and teach the vital rule of life by the beauty and the worth of this memorial to Duty unto Death.

MAIN FEATURES OF THE INTERCOLLEGIATE ALUMNI HOTEL MOVEMENT

CORONADO

Interested alumni can secure from a clerk at the desk of each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel an information leaflet which describes in detail the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel movement.

At each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel there will be maintained a card index of the names of all the resident alumni of all the participating institutions. This will be of especial benefit to traveling alumni in locating classmates and friends.

OAKLAND

The current issues of the alumni publications of all the participating institutions will be on file at each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel.

Reservation cards will be available at the clerk's desk in each designated hotel and at the alumni office in each college or university. These reservation cards will serve as a great convenience to travelers in securing advance accommodations.

CLAREMONT

The managers of all Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels are prepared to cooperate with individual alumni to the fullest extent and are also prepared to assist in the creation of new local alumni associations and in the development and extension of the activities of those already formed.
